

Dr. A. K. Singh

(b. March, 1934)

Former Head, Division of Seed Production, Central Potato Research Institute, Shimla-171 001 (HP) Dr. Singh was involved with potato seed production for over 25 years. He was the main person behind augmented potato seed supply during 60's and 70's. Besides, he has made a significant contribution in development of agronomical practices for seed and ware potato production, and for disease free seed stocks of potato in sub-tropical plains. He was the winner of Guinness Award (GASA) for scientific achievement in the service of community (1980). He has over 25 publications to his credit.